

IN THE REALM OF WOMAN

BY FENELPHE

Miss Cornelia Hughes leaves in the beginning of May for Halifax and other eastern points.

On Monday evening there is to be a private subscription dance held at the Corona Hotel, claiming a number of the bachelors as hosts.

Mrs. MacIntosh entertains at cards on Friday evening for the young people.

Mrs. Erwin, Idaho, reached the city last night and will be the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Barclay, here for some time.

On Thursday afternoon there was a ripple in the social stream, as hosts of callers wended their way to Government House, when Mrs. Buley received for the last time this season. The mistress of Government House was a stately figure in Paddy green, with a smart and dashing of spangled net of crystal and emerald tulle, bordered with a wide band of cut steel beads, studded with seed pearls and silk. A French rose in her hair, bordered with a wide band of cut steel beads, studded with seed pearls and silk. Miss Frances Davison was showered with dainty handkerchiefs and linens on Thursday afternoon, when Mrs. Harry Robertson entertained at the tea hour in her home. The hostess wore a soft, white dinner gown, while Miss Frances wore a pale blue satin, while in darker shade of blue chiffon, trimmed with gold braid.

A brass basket of yellow daffodils carried the table to the use of the same bloom adding their touch of brightness. The table decorations were effective. Here Mrs. Harriette Cooper and Mrs. Archibald Hill, the honoree, Miss Louise Hayday and Connie Griffin assisted. The little daughter of the honoree, Miss Marge and Jean, in pink and blue frocks opened the door, and also greeted the basket of yellow daffodils, which was entirely covered with lilies of the valley.

The guests included Mrs. E. T. Bishop, Mrs. Deane, Mrs. Harriette Cooper, Mrs. Dickins, Mrs. Griest, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. John Fraser, Miss Fraser, Mrs. Looch, Miss Rita Davies, Miss Wootton, Miss Sutor, Mrs. Iona, Mrs. Smith, Miss L. B. Hays, Miss Helen Webster and Miss Dalton.

Mrs. Cecil Goddard entertained at a bright little tea on Monday afternoon in honor of her sister, Miss Florence Lounston, of Vancouver.

The house was given in rich black and white, with touches of pink. Miss Lounston's gown was of mainly white silk, with yellow daffodils, interspersed with white hospitalities, grace the table. Here Mrs. H. W. Jones and Mrs. Bradburn presided.

The Mission Band of First Presbyterian Church will hold a shower for Grande Prairie hospital on Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3, at the Mission, 414 Fourth street. Afternoon tea will be served. Any articles suitable for a hospital will be acceptable.

The Ladies Aid of Grace Methodist Church are preparing for a bazaar to be held on Tuesday, April 2nd, in the church.

The Empire Theatre was simply crowded last night, music lovers enjoying the delicious musical fantasia, "The Prince of Tintagel." Indeed, the theatre is practically the only attraction which society ladies in the city are present, and certainly Lent has been a success.

QUANT CHIFFON HOUSE—Smart French style showing revival of old fashion effects, being fashioned of many blue chiffon, with overabundance of lace, a black patent leather belt grilling the waist, and tulle collar of hem-stitched chiffon finishing neck.

Made little or no difference to theatregoers. Henry Woodruff was one of the delights of the season.

Mrs. Dave Harold and son, Rich, left yesterday for a "crazy month" trip to Toronto.

On the south side Mr. and Mrs. Crawford of Vancouver are spending a few days with Mr. Crawford's sister, Mrs. George McDonald, Third avenue north.

Miss Schae who has been ill with fever, is reported out of danger.

Mrs. Harriette will receive on Monday.

Friends will expect to hear that Mr. G. W. Nightingale is very seriously ill, and little hope is entertained for recovery. The patient was removed yesterday to the city hospital for treatment.

Mrs. and Mrs. John Galtner have returned from the coast, where they spent the past two months. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Palmer until they move into their new home on First street east.

Mrs. and Mrs. M. R. Hay expect very shortly to move into their new house on First avenue north west.

Mrs. O. E. Edwards of MacLeod is visiting Prof. and Mrs. Mar 23, wards.

Monday is vacation day for the ladies living in the University end of the city.

Mrs. Edwards of MacLeod will receive with friends on Monday.

Mrs. Doyle is one of Monday's hostesses.

St. Henry's Bulletin's Estate.
The will of the distinguished surgeon, Sir Henry Trevelyan Bart., of Harley street, London, W., for many years on the staff of St. Bartholomew's hospital, surgical secretary, and former president of the Pathological society, of the Royal College of Surgeons, and of the British Medical Association, who died on March 1st, last, aged 66 years, has been proved at $9,394 pounds sterling, with net personalty $9,772 pounds. By his will dated August 5, last, with a codicil, he left his estate to his son, William John Green, an affidavit of 10 pounds during the life of his daughter's widow. If he died, she was to remain in his service, and if he died, she was to remain in his service, and if he died, she was to remain in his service.

A Young Convent.
At Miss Christie Murray's concert at Aeolian Hall, London, recently, the young contralto, Miss Edith Thompson, will make her reappearance. The one-time factory girl made her debut in December, since when she has been studying voice production with Mrs. Walker-Wallis, who has been apparently made great progress since her first appearance.

Famous Cathedral in Peril.
The cathedral of St. Basil, on the Red Place at Moscow, is one of the most famous buildings in the world and ranks with the leaning tower of Pisa in interest. A report has just been received that the cathedral is in danger of being destroyed by fire.

An Englishman said, St. Basil's Cathedral is without doubt the most beautiful building in the world, retaining nothing that one has ever seen, and being in no way less a masterpiece of architecture. Ivan the Terrible was so coloring that he is said to have had the architect's eyes put out in order that he should not build a similar church in any other city, and that it should be the sole pride of Moscow. It is to be hoped that immediate steps will be taken to safeguard this historic building.

Opened Box and Hidden Romance.
A mystery, with the suggestion of a tragic romance behind it, is reported from Blackpool. Five years ago a young woman entered a shop in the Central Drive and arranged to leave a box for a few weeks at a rate of 5d. per week for storage. Nothing was heard of the contents of the box that day, and the box was being over nine pounds, the box was then shown to defray expenses. The contents include a lady's dress, presumably a bridal dress, and a "Tangara" from a chain of South African notes.

The Women of India.
Lady Muir MacKenzie writes as follows: "The women of India cannot be said to be prisoners for life, but many of them are kept in strict confinement, and it is quite possible to meet with women who have never seen a horse or a tree. I myself have done so. These women, when ill, are attended by a doctor, and there are far too many doctors. The Durbar Hospital do not allow men doctors to enter their wards, so the 'hidden' women of India cannot see the doctor."

Anti-Suffrage Meeting at Avon.
A correspondent in Avon writes: "A meeting was held under the auspices of the National League for Opposing Woman Suffrage at the Royal Hotel, Avon, when the chair was taken by Mr. Ireland, Barrister, at Mr. (North) Gledhill. In the discussion were Mrs. Harold Norris, Mr. A. Macdonald, and Dr. Crook. As the suffrage movement is not without its influential supporters in the neighborhood, a certain amount of opposition—mild or otherwise—was expected, but beyond a few questions, politics and the like, there were no indications but that the meeting was entirely in agreement with the views held by the promoters."

FATAL ACCIDENT IN CALGARY.
On Speer Highway Was Due to Deceptive Brakes.
Calgary, Mar. 21.—The jury inquiring into the death of Alice Dickerson, a nurse who came here from Grand Manor, N. B., six months ago, and who died in a street car accident, returned a verdict in which they absolved the car motorist and blamed the defective brakes. Mrs. Dickerson was in a car when it ordinarily stopped at the corner opposite to the one she crossed, but the car was not stopped, and she was killed.

IN DEFENSE OF MILITANCY.
Lady Constance Lytton said: "I believe the militant section of the women's movement has collapsed. I congratulate you upon that collapse." (Laughter.) The events of the last few days had been very characteristic of militant movement, she proceeded, and more especially of the treatment meted out to their movement. They never forget that there was one difference between the women's fight and every other struggle, and that was, that the women's fight was never over. The women's fight was never over, and the women's fight was never over.

SATURDAY, MARCH 23, 1912

His Royal Highness is to visit Edmonton this summer. His well come must be a royal one.

The pump-house is again trying to collapse. This time it is the foundations that are giving way.

We might hitch a balloon to the structure and inflate it from the city gas factory.

Mr. A. Bourassa's leadership of the Unionist party's leadership have been short, and not particularly sweet for anyone concerned.

He put his foot in it splendidly by an indiscreet declaration binding his party to repeal the insurance bill should the voters return them to power—and since then the party press has been chiefly busy explaining that what Mr. Law said was not what he meant to say, and that if he did mean what he said he should be supposed to have meant something else, because that was not the thing a man in his position should have meant to say. Then, when the party came face to face with the strike problems, Mr. Law took to the bush and left Mr. Balfour to tell Parliament and the country where the Unionist party was to be found. One cannot but wish that Mr. Balfour had taken the opportunity to deliver an address on "the stone that the builders rejected" having become the head of the corner once again. The moral is that a man who can be Canadian and an iron-master and still not be a statesman big enough and broad enough to lend an opposition in the Imperial Parliament.

Mr. Champ Clark is now worrying about the emigration of people from the United States to Canada. If this is the case, he is worried about Mr. Clark has much cause for worry and will probably have more. The movement of people from the comparatively dense population of the Republic to the unpopulated spaces of the Dominion is as certain to continue and to grow as an ambitious man is certain to take up an opportunity to better his fortunes. But why should Mr. Champ Clark anybody else trouble his soul over this perfectly natural, and even inevitable, process in the evolution of things? The movement to Canada is not depopulating the United States. The voting and tax-paying strength of the Republic is not dwindling because of it. But increasing in spite of it. Those who come hither from other gentler and western States do not leave abandoned farms and deserted villages behind them. Their holdings are bought and occupied by other migrants. Perhaps in the exchange Canada gets the better of the bargain, for while we get largely people of our own stock improved by a generation or so on the prairies, those who replace them in the United States come frequently from across the sea, and are unused to the ways and institutions of the western world. However, Mr. Champ Clark and his goodly number of other gentlemen in the Republic stand ever ready to instruct the new-comer in his duties, political and other, and it may be believed that, despite the Canada-vand movement, civilization will not cease nor the race become extinct in the valley of the Mississippi. Anywhere there is no profit in Mr. Clark troubling himself about it, for the movement will keep right on whether he spurns or smiles.

TRYING TO BUY HIM OFF.

Le Devoir makes an interesting and informing announcement. It is that a financier whose exploits are noted for their audacity has been threatening to "put his hand upon" Le Devoir—presumably for the purpose of either choking it out of existence or of making it say what an eminent financier of audacious exploits and the usual political views would have it say.

The "Inverness" having used Mr. Bourassa, his paper and his case as an aid to getting their friends into office at Ottawa are now apparently appreciative lest the too conspicuous role of the ally should get them into trouble in certain parts of the country—in which event the "Inverness" would of course be the chief losers. So the unnamed but easily recognized financier hints that unless Le Devoir and its proprietor make themselves less conspicuous he may lay hand upon them and either extinguish them or change the tenor of their tune. It is one thing, however, to threaten to do this little trick and another thing to really do it. Mr. Bourassa is not a man to be easily silenced. He is too fond of talking to be squelched without a struggle, and too fond of his own views to let them through fear that they may bring trouble upon his friends and allies. Mr. Bourassa is not the type of man at all to be threatened only and to steer his course by the lights of practical politics. It may really be better for the Nationalist cause, as Mr. Pelletier and Mr. Monk insist it is, that the Nationalist chiefs should get in the dark for a season, until the feeling against them in certain parts of the country and among certain sections of the Government is following his lead. But Mr. Bourassa is not the man to be kept in the dark, even for the benefit of the cause he has at heart. The linealight for him came on no cases. As he refused to take to the shadows with Messrs. Monk and Pelletier on the school question, so he now serves notice on the eminent and audacious capitalist in question that his mouth is not to be stopped by the use of a financial gag. Le Devoir declares that it is not for sale any more than is the conscience of its editors. As he refused to put Mr. Bourassa out of sight for a season may therefore be scored up as another of the failures of the Borden Government. What Le Devoir has been saying that it will continue to say, perhaps with even more ginger, and if the Government suffers because of its association with Le Devoir and its owner that is the Government's misfortune, not that of the country; he should not have tied himself up to them. Having done so, he must suffer the consequences, for it is apparent that they are not to be broken by his audacious financial friends any more than they were to be blarneyed into silence on the Manitoba boundary bill.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Winning Tribune—Every day reveals in connection with the movement of the public telephone system in Manitoba. The outside service appears to be a sticking point. In Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie and Brandon we have had the "blank voucher business" and at Pilot Mound yesterday the following testimony was given by men whom the Tribune can vouch for as reliable.

Charles Blackburn, a farmer living 1-1/2 miles from Pilot Mound, gave evidence of an attempt made by the telephone company to secure a receipt for double the amount of money.

He said that six men came to his house for dinner, and that Dempsey made out a voucher for dinner and was paid. Hereafter to sign this voucher and Dempsey then said that the other six men were at the house of Robert Potter.

Robert Potter was called and said that to his knowledge no telephone man had boarded at his house. Continuing, Mr. Potter said that the Manitoba government telephone employees were exceptionally well paid their work in comparison with the men formerly employed by the Bell telephone company.

Regina Leader—The Regina Province is making almost daily confession of the fact that the Hamilton party in the legislature made an exceedingly poor showing during the recent session. People who followed the proceedings of the House were well aware that in every important respect the government served over the opposition, but it was hardly to be anticipated that the official opposition paper would openly give evidence of the fact. Yet such is the case.

Calgary Herald—A Massachusetts minister of the gospel called his husband "dog, hyacinth, rat, snake and skunk." What is the matter with the rest of the ministers?

Lethbridge Herald—"The A. G. W. appeal is going to the privy council as rapidly as the fifth government of this country." B. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, will be found in the accounts of the fight of fighting the people's interests.

Lethbridge Herald—Mr. Howley did attack the demonstration farm at Clarehous. Last night, which shows that Mr. Howley is lacking in that very desirable quality in statesmen, sincerity and moral quality. If it is right to ridicule the demonstration farm at every other point it was right to attack it at Clarehous. Mr. Michener is indulging in a lot of sentimental talk about principle above party and here his chief lieutenant hadn't nearly as much principle as party in his make-up. Howley is a coward.

Toronto Globe—If the gentlemen in the House of Commons would turn their attention to the smothering of the Robin-Roore political machine they would better serve the cause of fiscal freedom.

CORRESPONDENCE

CRITICISM OF ACTION OF CHAIRMAN RAMSEY

Dear Sir—

Your report of last night's proceedings of the school board will give some idea of what was done, but those of us who spent over three hours in the board room have a pretty vivid knowledge of what was done. I wish, however, to draw attention to one thing. Mr. Ramsey expressed his opinion as having no animosity or personal ill-feeling against Mr. McGill. The superintendent at once interpreted it as I caught the words correctly, "your saying don't make it true." To the surprise of some, if not all present, neither the chairman or any members took any notice. I am not without some experience in the Chair and know how difficult it is to always do the right thing at the right moment, but surely, if ever a case arose where such demanded the intervention of the chair this was one. I unintentionally said that the chairman utterly failed in realizing his responsibility or sense of duty. I was surprised, too, that none of the other members of the board protested. I should have thought that the members who have risen together to defend their colleague from being grossly insulted by their own said servant, and direct their chairman to demand an immediate apology and a humble apology from Mr. McGill, failing which he take the consequences, which for him ought to be pretty serious. It is the bounden duty of a chairman of a public body to see that the members of the board are protected from insult and that the Speaker of the House of Commons to protect its members, while performing its duties and higher consideration arises a larger and higher consideration that will have to be met and dealt with, one that must be solved on a plane higher than mere legal quibbles.

All will wish that this miserable business will soon end, and that justice and right will prevail "tho' the heavens fall." But out of this affair there arises a larger and higher consideration that will have to be met and dealt with, one that must be solved on a plane higher than mere legal quibbles.

Yours truly,

W. J. BORDEN

One redeeming feature last night was that the Board realized its responsibilities and resolved to act accordingly, instead of delegating its duties to outsiders.

May I ask Mr. J. the committee of inquiry is to adopt the antiquated method of conducting its business with closed doors? I contend the ratepayers have a undeniable right to be present and hear on what grounds their representatives arrive at their conclusions.

City & Farm Land Listings Wanted

Bulletin Want Ads are the Best

South Side the Best Buying

Yes, we have been telling you so for some weeks. Just drop over and see what the other North Siders are doing through our office. Your South Side buys will bring you in larger returns for the amount invested than anything else you can get.

BONNIE DOON—The finest residence pair in this grand sub-division at only $475 each; terms over 2 years. Do you fancy Corners at $600? What?

KING EDWARD PARK—We have hundreds of listings here. This is the subdivision which holds the record as being the only one without a foot of waste land.

A beautiful Double Corner close in at only $312.50 each.

IRVINE—Your last chance to get something near the new $100,000 school before the original owners of this estate put the unsold portions back on the market at a great increase. Do you want them now at $450 up?

RIVER VIEW HEIGHTS—The old McKernan farm in the West End near the University Grounds. Do you know that the purchasers of the acreage here are going to put it on at $800 per lot? We have them in the original subdivided part at $425 up. They are selling fast and you can see why.

UNIVERSITY PLACE—This needs no explanation. If you do not know the Hubbert property you had better let us show you. Choice Double Corners at $1850.

GARNEAU—The select home sites for the Four Hundred. Get in now so that you may build early while a contractor is to be had. The choicest double corners at $2000.

HOUSEB—We have them everywhere in the city. (No, not for rent). When the spring rush opens the house properties will be most in demand. See our lists.

For anything on the South Side, especially the close in money makers, see us. Delay will cost you heavily.

STEPPED OFF MOVING TRAIN IN HER SLEEP

Miss Ethel Upoff, of Vancouver, is in Calgary Hospital and is Not Expected to Recover From Effects of Accident.

Calgary, March 22.—Suffering with a fractured left arm and a dislocated hip, sustained in falling from the steps of number 14 eastbound train at Glenora, 13 miles west of Calgary, at 10:15 Thursday night, Miss Ethel Upoff, of Vancouver, was brought to the Calgary General Hospital Friday and as the prognosis is internally injured, it is doubtful whether she will recover.

Miss Upoff was travelling from Vancouver to Winnipeg with her sister, Miss Nellie Upoff, and it is thought she stepped off the train while waiting in her sleep.

She was clad only in her night gown and fell down an embankment, when she stepped from the fast moving express.

She was discovered in an unconscious condition in a little used pump house about five yards from the scene of the accident by section foreman, Edwin Chappel, of the Glenora division at about seven o'clock Friday morning.

WILL TELL RESULTS OF RECIPROCITY DEFEAT

Members of Western Grain Growers' Association Will Give Evidence Before the Select Committee of the Senate Regarding Letts Measure

Ottawa, March 22.—The western grain growers delegation, after round-robin informal conference with Senator Edwards left for various points on the coast to spend a week before returning Monday to give evidence before the committee of which Senator Edwards is chairman, on western conditions as the result of the defeat of reciprocity on September 21.

In addition to the representatives of the provincial grain growers, Messrs. MacKenzie, Green and Evans, Messrs. Maharg and Wood will also be asked to give evidence, and George Lane, of the firm of Gordon, Ironside and Lane, of Alberta, is also in the city to give evidence from the view-point of the cattlemen.

It is pointed out in the latter connection that a heavy sum has been lost to the cattlemen of the west through the failure to get to the Chicago market. It is further contended that had reciprocity carried thousands of sheep could have been put in condition with vast quantities of feed available, but not now maintainable.

The grain act was not reached in the senate today, but with it all probability came up on Monday.

BUILDING FREIGHT CAR PLAN

Proposed Capital of the New York Will be Between $2,000,000 and $4,000,000

Montreal, March 22.—It was stated today that the proposition which has been pending to build a freight car plant in the vicinity of Dorval is to be carried through, and is now as agreed fact, and that the proposed company will have a capital of from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000. The capacity of the plant will be about forty cars per day.

The people behind this project are New York and Canadian capitalists. The New York people are practically the same as those already interested in the Major Car company, which company has interested in it, some of the strongest financial people in New York, and is controlled and managed by two Montreal men, namely, David Major and Hubert Major, who have been actively interested in the car business for a number of years.

Construction on the works will start almost immediately, which will enable them to begin operations by the latter part of next summer.

Lincoln, March 22.—Declaring that Governor Harmon is a reactionary and the choice of Wall Street, J. J. Bryan has given out a statement attacking the candidacy of the Ohio governor. Mr. Bryan comments on the attitude taken by Senator Hitchcock favoring Governor Harmon and adds:

"Governor Harmon cannot be nominated without the active aid of Wall Street, and Mr. Bryan has worked too hard and too long for progressive democratic principles to become instrumental in surrendering the party into the control of the predatory interests. If Nebraska's democracy refuses to serve as a delegate (in case he is elected), but will instead go to disfigure as an individual and do what he can to secure the nomination of the progressive democrats."

Where Do You Want to Live?

In the midst of a noisy, dusty, dirty city where you have to pay $3,000 for a lot and live in an ordinary "Built to pay taxes" house?

or

In a place where you pay $300 for a lot and then have enough left to build the kind of a house you have always hoped to own?

BRAEMAR

Is a high-class residential subdivision, offering all the advantages of beautiful surroundings, and good fresh air and yet close enough to your work to be convenient.

This ideal homesite is only two miles from the Post Office and with the opening of the new East End Bridge there is bound to be a great development in this section. This will mean Water, Light and a Car Service within a very short time.

There are less than 100 lots left in the entire subdivision, every lot a building lot, High, Level and Cleared

Investigate at once & pin your faith to this sane, self-selling subdivision.

CROWDED STREET CARS IN FATAL COLLISION

Lives Were Crashed Out of Both Motorists—Short Circuit of Heavy Charged Wires and Overturned Streetcar Started Fire.

Fortville, Ind., March 22.—Two persons were killed and more than thirty injured, many seriously tonight, when two crowded cars on the Indian union Traction company's line collided just west of this place.

The cars were running only about twenty miles an hour but the vestibule of both cars were jammed, crushing the life out of both motorists. Short circuits or heavily charged wires and overturned houses set fire to the wreckage.

The less injured turned rescuers and carried from the burning cars those who were unable to help themselves. While some gave attention to the safety of the injured men and women, others, stifled with odor of seared flesh, attempted to reach the houses. It was almost impossible to search the smoking compartment. Some fear is held that other persons may have been burned to death.

COLONEL HUGHES HAS OPTIMISTIC DREAM

Hopes to See Time When Regular Training Camp Unnecessary For Militia and Military Cooperation in High State of Preparedness.

Toronto, Ont., March 22.—A system of militia for Canada, so perfected that regular camps will become unnecessary, with local training camps to complete by efficient drill in armories and practice fields that the "soldier" can be called out at the shortest notice for important maneuvers, is what Colonel Sam Hughes, minister of militia in the Borden government, sees in the future.

He took something of his hopes tonight at a dinner given in his honor by the Toronto branch of the National club. Colonel Hughes' first step to this end, he said, would be to see to it that areas of manoeuvring were provided in every section of the country and that the public school children be trained in the use of the rifle.

This would insure the correct early training of the coming generation and prevent the waste of the time and money in drill and marksmanship.

SASKATCHEWAN GOVT. HAS A BIG PROGRAM

Will Spend a Great Deal of Money This Season in Constructing Telephone Construction in All Parts of the Province.

Regina, March 22.—The announcement has just been made of the Saskatchewan government's telephone construction programme for the present year, and it is one of the largest yet undertaken in single season by the provincial department.

The long distance lines which it is proposed to construct this year will reach a mileage of between twelve hundred and fifteen hundred miles. The necessary poles and copper wire for the construction of these lines are already on hand or orders for the same placed some two months ago, consequently there will be no delay in construction.

It is the policy of the department to purchase all materials itself and merely let the contracts for the actual work of construction. The lines included in the government's programme this year are fifteen in number embracing practically all sections of the province.

DEATH LIST OF MINE DISASTER NUMBERS 75

All the Men On the Pay Roll at Time of Explosion Have Been Accounted For—Dead Bodies in Tons of McCurtain.

McCurtain, Okla., March 22.—Official figures given out tonight show the death toll in the mine disaster here Wednesday to be 75. Twelve bodies were recovered today, making a total of 64 brought out. Six bodies still are in the mine. They have been located and will be taken out when the debris is cleared away.

General Manager W. A. Thompson of the Fort Smith and Western Railway company, owners of the mine, says the number of dead bodies brought out, those still in the underground works, and the number rescued alive, 25 in all accounts for all 75 men on the mine payroll at the time of the explosion.

Today seemed like one long funeral in McCurtain. More than a score of bodies were buried.

Early in the forenoon 150 men volunteered to work as grave diggers. During the afternoon one little procession was escorted out of sight, on its way to the cemetery in the outskirts of the town another came into sight.

Many members of the clergy aided in performing the last offices of the dead and trying to comfort the living.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS.

Post Office Co-operates in Novel Method of Advertising.

Lethbridge, March 22.—The means being taken to advertise the fact to the seventh international dry farming congress will be held at Lethbridge, October 21st to 26th, 1912, are many and various, but the latest idea is an entirely novel innovation. This is the use of a cancellation stamp on all outgoing mail.

Letters of the incoming letters at Lethbridge post office, which, in addition to the ordinary date stamp, inserts on every letter the notice, "International Dry Farming Congress, Lethbridge, Alta., 1912."

This is the first time the use of a cancellation stamp of this nature has been sanctioned in Canada by the Dominion postal authorities, and it is a recognition of the fact that the Dry Farming Congress will be the largest and best exposition of farm products held in Western Canada.

Newbro's Herpicide

The Sanitary Hair Dressing

No matter where she is, the girl with a nice head of hair is always an object of admiration and at the same time the envy of her less fortunate sisters.

The intelligent use of a good hair-dressing makes all the difference. Hair that receives no attention but the daily combing and an occasional shampoo cannot be pretty. Dandruff forms on the scalp, the hair becomes dead, brittle, uneven and drops out. There is an absence of that life, luster and snap possessed by hair which is given proper care and intelligent applications and despair of her less fortunate sisters.

Herpicide imparts glow and beauty to the hair and to the user a sense of cleanliness, a feeling of satisfaction and assurance. Try it and see. Your friends will be surprised and remark on your improved appearance.

Large size bottles of Newbro's Herpicide are sold under a positive guarantee everywhere.

Applications obtained at the better Barber shops and beauty parlors. Send for trial bottle and booklet FREE OF CHARGE.

While she was gone, Annie McDougall still, to frightened to stir, matched her keen Scotch-Canadian wit against the cunning of the Indian, and Ironhand Dr. John caught the animal by its bridle and forced it out, and then, between the surprise of finding him there at all, and his vigorous defence of his friends, the Indians suddenly lost all their courage and raced away, pulling up only when they knew that they were safely out of range of the guns of the post. They lingered about, however, and a few hours later, when a furious storm of wind and rain broke upon them, they came back and asked for shelter. Dr.

Annie McDougall told them that she had none, that there never had been any in the fort. Still they demanded that and when she persisted in her denial, they began a "rough house," in their determined search for it. Finally, Annie McDougall's wit came to her rescue. She told them that if they would wait peacefully for a little while, she would get some whisky—that it was not in the store, but she would get it, if only, they would leave

"But what did you do? What did you have to eat when they did that?" I asked.

"We did the best we could," was the characteristic reply, "but often we had to go without meat ourselves, when they stole ours. Above all things

BALFOUR'S RETURN WAS A CRISIS WITHIN A CRISIS

British Unionist Party Was Divided Under Their New Leader.

BONAR LAW'S LEADING HAS BEEN A FIASCO

To Save Face of Opposition He Will Remain Nominal Party Chief.

London, Mar. 22.—Events have moved dramatically in England in the last 24 hours, and it was thought during yesterday that there would be even more startling developments by midnight. Premier Asquith's fall was freely predicted and the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour was prepared, it was said, to accept the king's invitation to take office and carry the country over the crisis which the Liberals had proved themselves incompetent to handle.

As the debate in the Commons on the miners' wage bill progressed last evening, however, it became evident that the government's knell had not yet sounded and when finally the issue divided before rising, the ministerial majority was found to be 154. Some of the prognostications of the Liberal's downfall are still being made but they lack the enthusiastic confidence of those heard early yesterday in the Unionist quarters. Nevertheless the day's events were of importance in the political history of England.

Mr. Balfour's reappearance as the spokesman of the opposition marked a crisis within a crisis. It was the practical deposition of Andrew Bonar Law. The member for Hove will be retained in the post of nominal leader of the opposition in the House until he can be conveniently and politely elected, but his limitations have been too apparent and his leadership has been so far a fiasco in the emergency the Unionists turned to the old and tried leader who, when he resigned last year, intimated that his services would be at the disposal of the party should they be required.

The Unionists had not an embarrassing choice. There was nobody else in their ranks who had shown the special ability necessary to direct operations. It was Balfour or nobody. His return was welcomed with wild enthusiasm, which was put a poor compliment to the man who was forced to put on his shoes. The news that Balfour would move the rejection of the minimum wage bill in the House of Commons became known on Wednesday at the close of the day. It was like a clarion call heartening and inspiring the party council which had been divided. It was stated that Mr. Balfour had consented to move the bill at the request of Honour. Law, the Canadian who has been leader of the Unionist party in Great Britain for a few short months, and who is now supplanted by the return of Balfour.

As one Conservative paper phrases it: "The leader whose strength had been so freely expended in the conduct of the last few years was not expected to step forward from his retirement and throw himself into the centre of a crisis more grave and more decisive of the fate of England than within living recollection, but now that his triumphant resolution had been taken it is evident that at once this is the hour for Mr. Balfour." Last evening when Mr. Balfour announced in the House that there would be no dissolution of parliament in case the government were overthrown over the minimum wage bill this was practically the only definite point from which a view of the situation could be taken and it indicated how complex the situation was that none of the authorities seemed to agree as to what the upshot would be.

Not Officially Recognized.

Madison, Wis., March 22.—Under a ruling of the Secretary of State yesterday Col. Roosevelt will not get the Wisconsin delegation to the Republican national convention. His name will not be printed on the ballot to be used at the preferential primary election for the presidency. Only the names of President Taft and Senator La Follette are to have official recognition. If Col. Roosevelt's supporters wish to vote for him they will have to write his name in the ballot under the caption, "Independent."
